MONTANA.—The Montanian has advices from Montana which are not quite so encouraging as those hitherto published. It will be observed, however, that only a few localities are spoken of as having failed to yield what was expected. The Montanian says:

From a gentleman who is just over from Blackfoot City, having left that place on the 18th of October, we learn that the weather still continued pleasant in the mines on this side of the Rocky Mountains, and mining operations still continue to be prosecuted with energy. The discoveries on Reed's and Lincoln gulches, which are the most northerly of any on this side of the mountains, have not proven as rich as was expected. In fact, in all the gulches north of McClellan's, no paying ground has been found and prospectors in that section have pretty well abandoned the idea of finding a continuation of the rich diggings at Blackfoot and McClellan's. That portion of the mines is again depleted of its surplus population by reported new discoveries across the Missouri river, and thousands have gone thither. Continued evidences of the value of quartz mines in Montana are every day exhibited, but a large portion of the miners are not disposed to wait for the development of the lodes, but rely on the placers for the means of suddenly acquiring wealth. Apprehensions of a scarcity of provisions, the coming winter, are still felt, and the question of supplies is engaging the attention of a great number. Not many of those who went to Montana from this side will return to spend the winter. The inducements to miners and settlers are sufficient to keep most of those who are now in that country, there for another season at least.

THE RUSSO AMERICAN TELEGRAPH.—Every thing relating to this great enterprise, which is now looked upon as a thing sure of accomplishment, must be of interest to the public. A Washington dispatch of October 5th, says:

Minister Clay has transmitted to the State Department an official copy of the conditions stipulated between the Russian Telegraph Department and Hiram Sibley, for the establishment of telegraphic communication between Russia and America, by which the exclusive right is granted to the latter plenipotentiary of the American Western Union Telegraph Company for 33 years from the day the line shall be opened, the Russian Government to grant another term as it may judge convenient. In order to encourage the undertaking, the Government grants to the company an allowance of 40 per cent. on the net produce of dispatches transmitted over the lines to and from America and in order to contribute as much as possible to the success of the present undertaking, the Minister of Public Utility will adopt the measures necessary for securing the company's telegraph from being maliciously injured by the local population, but at the same time, the Government refuses to take upon itself any responsibility for such injuries of any nature whatsoever. The company is allowed to import materials free of duty.

The Daily Oregonian.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

FRIDAY MORNING, NOV. 10, 1865.

THE OREGONIAN

With this week's issue the WEEKLY OREGONIAN completes its fifteenth volume. While its publisher views with much satisfaction the changes and improvements which have been made in the paper since it came into his hands, he trusts that he has also a grateful appreciation of that liberality on the part of the people, which has enabled him to make the OREGONIAN what it is, and to give it the position it now holds. It has ever been his constant aim to furnish the public with the best newspaper in the State. In proof of this it is only necessary to refer to the paper itself. Neither pains nor expense have been spared in the management of any of its departments. From time to time, whenever the growing wants of the State and of this city seemed to demand it, and as often as the business of the establishment would justify the additional outlay of money, both the daily and weekly editions of the paper have been enlarged and improved. The publisher has been actuated by the single purpose of supplying the public with a paper suited to wants of the times, and accordingly the resources of the establishment, as rapidly as they have accumulated, have been expended in improving the OREGONIAN, with the determination of making it the very best journal north of Sacramento.

In size the OREGONIAN is much larger than any other paper in the State. In the amount of matter published each week no other Oregon journal can be compared with it. Each weekly issue contains from two to five times as much interesting reading matter as can be found in the largest of the other papers. Its facilities for obtaining news by telegraph and otherwise are incomparably superior to those possessed by any other journal. The OREGONIAN is the only paper in the State which publishes full details of Eastern news. All the dispatches received by the Associated Press of California, are published without abridgment in the OREGONIAN the next day after they appear in the papers of San Francisco. Articles of general interest are also carefully collated from Eastern and California journals—the large size of the OREGONIAN enabling us to present in its columns a greater variety of selected matter than any other paper in the State can possibly publish. In addition to these features, particular attention is devoted to the selection and publication of every item of local news. Everything relating to the mining interests of Oregon and the adjoining Territories—every enterprise which is calculated to enlarge our field of trade or enhance the growth of the State, receives attention through the OREGONIAN. The paper favors and labors for every scheme which is intended to conduce to the present welfare and future prosperity of Oregon.

The OREGONIAN each week contains a carefully prepared commercial report and a review of the markets. This feature of the paper is a thing of great value to the farmer. These reports may be relied on as furnishing the most accurate obtainable information of the state of the markets.

The position of the OREGONIAN in respect to State and National politics is well known. The paper as heretofore, will stand firmly on the side of the Union and of universal freedom. The cardinal doctrine of the natural equality of human rights, and the principle that all men without distinction of color or caste should be "equal before the law," will be firmly adhered to. The Administration of President Johnson will receive a liberal, not servile, support through our columns. Every measure, which, in our judgment, is calculated to strengthen the Union of the States and to prepare the way for future harmony between all parts of the country, we shall sustain. In the matter of reorganizing the government and restoring authority in the late rebellious States, we deem it all important that such a course shall be pursued by Congress and the Executive as will prevent the restoration to political power of the chief inciters of the rebellion. Treason, we insist, should be dealt with as a crime—not "made respectable," by the consideration with which the guilty are treated.

The actual circulation of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is considerably larger than that of any other journal in Oregon. The number of copies we print is constantly increasing. Subscriptions may begin at any time. Specimen copies will be furnished on application. The paper will be sent to any address on the following terms. The money in all cases, is required in advance. All papers are discontinued at the expiration of the term of subscription:

DAILY OREGONIAN,	one year (by mail)	$10 00

WEEKLY, "	one year	3 00

Address,

HENRY L. PITTOCK,
Publisher and Proprietor.

Glory Again!

The Eastern elections whose approach lately awakened so unusual an interest, are over, and the party of expedients has lost again. This time, the poor remnants of the "Democracy" have sustained a most crushing defeat. The party which, in order to prove "that 'Democratic' principles are always and eternally the same" denied its past record, changed its tactics to suit the times, and nominated its opponents for office, quickly finds that it cannot win even by the adoption of these artful devices. If so great a weight of odium rests upon a party as to render its success impossible, even when it has respectable and patriotic men for its candidates, we should like to be informed what it could do were it to offer its own members for office? The result of these elections proves conclusively that the "Democratic" organization is utterly powerless in every Northern State. It now appears an actual fact that the loss of the rebel cause was the destruction of the "Democratic" party.

But though defeated in every loyal State, the "Democracy" should still take heart. They were lately victorious in the great Territories of Idaho and Montana! Surely the remembrance of this is enough to inspire them with new hopes and awaken in them a new vigor. With a great flourish of sounding words these "victories" were announced, and the tidings repeated by the Copperhead journals of this State. Will they not let us hear what they now have to offer upon the late election in New York, and will they tell us how to console them for the loss of their last State, New Jersey?

Some months ago when through the persistent and tireless devotion of patient loyalty, the rebellion was brought to a close, the bankrupt Copperhead politicians, with some pomp of metaphor informed us that the "country would soon turn to the 'Democratic' party for a guide through existing perils," and that "the aid of the old party would have to be called in to quiet the maddened elements and restore peace and harmony throughout the land." The events of the past few weeks do not show that the people place much reliance upon the "Democracy," or that they deem the present intervention of the party indispensable to the salvation of the country. The invitation which was given to the country to cast off its supporters and reinstate these political charlatans in power, was but equivalent to an attempt to persuade it to

> "Kill its physician and bestow the fee
> Upon the foul disease."

Instead of turning to the "Democracy" for help, the country still clings to and relies upon its only real friends. More than this, the changeful and dishonest party finds its counsels repudiated and itself defeated in States scarcely ever known to give majorities against "Democratic" candidates until now.

A Union victory in New Jersey is truly a great achievement. We were prepared to hear of success in New York, Massachusetts, Minnesota and other States, but of New Jersey we still had very grave doubts. That this hitherto incorrigible State should give a Union majority, is a glorious consummation. Months ago when we stated that the "Democratic" party died with the rebellion, we were not premature in the announcement. Resort to what shifts it will, it will never be powerful enough to contest the field with its opponents again.

John Mitchel, it appears, has not been released as was announced some weeks ago. The eminent contributor to Richmond literature is still resting from his arduous labors within the retirement of his casemate, awaiting his trial. We wish he could be punished perpetually by being compelled to listen to the recital of his famous editorials, written during the rise and fall of the rebellion.

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO NOVEMBER 7.

From Mexico.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The Herald's letter from Mesilla, Mexico, October 13th states that Juarez was then at Elsa and the French were near that place.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The Matamoras correspondence of the Herald, dated October 24th, states that the attack on Matamoras by the Liberals commenced the Sunday previous. The fact of their being kept out of the town in three lines of battle, led to the belief that they were commanded by American officers, as they had never formed that way before.

President Johnson on the Rebel Debt.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The following dispatch from the President to the Governor of Georgia, has been published:

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28, 1865.—To H. V. Johnson, Provisional Governor of Georgia: The people of Georgia should not hesitate a single moment in repudiating every dollar of debt created to aid the rebellion against the Government of the United States. It will not do to levy and collect taxes from a State and people who are ready to pay debts created to aid in making war and subverting the Constitution of the United States. I don't believe the great mass of the people of Georgia when left uninfluenced will ever submit to the payment of a debt which was the main cause of bringing on their past and present sufferings. The result of the rebellion is that those who invested capital in this debt must lose it and take it as one of the inevitable results of rebellion, though it may seem hard to them. The idea should be inculcated at home and abroad that no debt contracted for the purpose of dissolving the Union can or will be paid by taxes levied on the people for such purposes.

(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON.

[There must be a mistake in the address of the above letter. It was James Johnson who was appointed Governor of Georgia.—ED. OREGONIAN.

Cholera in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Dr. Dunnell, quarantine Surgeon, reports ten deaths from cholera out of fifty or sixty cases on board the Atlanta.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The passengers of the Atlanta have written a letter stating their disbelief in the disease on board being the cholera.

The Southern Congressmen.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says: That though the members elect to Congress from the South have not been placed on the Clerk's initial roll of representatives it is regarded as a fact that seats will ultimately be granted to all whose respective States have repudiated the war debt and have adopted the anti-slavery amendment, if they can take the test oath of 1862. This announcement is given semi-officially (?) to the politicians South that they may take due notice thereof, and govern themselves accordingly. It will also be questioned whether the President's pardon does not over rule the test oath and make the recipient eligible to official position.

Tragedy at Hartford.

HARTFORD, CONN., Nov. 6.—E. W. Greene late President of the Connecticut Fire Insurance Co., in a fit of insanity last night, cut his wife's throat with a razor causing death in a few moments, and then cutting his own throat in two places and gashing his arm. He is still alive with little prospect of recovery.

News from Savannah.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Savannah Herald of the 1st says: The officials of Savannah declare the city again under civil authority, and notify the citizens that all the ordinances of the former civil government are thereby repealed so far as they conflict with the status of the negroes.

The Fenians—Gale on the Lakes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A Toronto, Canada West, correspondent to-day, denies the truth of the telegram in regard to the Fenian excitement in Canada. It says there is no excitement there whatever. The feeling is that the Government is able to deal with any Fenian project that may be hatched here or elsewhere.

PICTON, C. W., Nov. 6.—A heavy gale occurred last night. Great damage was done to the shipping on Lake Ontario. A large black vessel, name unknown, is ashore on Salmon Point Reef. The masts are gone and the sea is washing over her. All hands are supposed to be lost.

The Rebellion in Jamaica.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Havana files per Columbia have particulars regarding the rebellion in Jamaica.

The city of Kingston is in great excitement. Business is entirely suspended there. The population are placing themselves in a state of defense. Immense meetings, under the order of the Governor, have been held. The rebellion raged with great fury in St. Thomas. In the east of the Island, unprecedented outrages were committed upon lives and property. The volunteers sent to the insurrectionary districts were only partially successful in repelling the insurgents.

The Havana correspondents say that forty insurgents in Jamaica have been hanged. The barbarities committed by the rebels were shocking. Mr. McCormack was dashed to pieces against a cannon. Rev. Mr. Poorchman's tongue was cut out. Baron Von Kettelhoup's fingers were cut off of one hand. The negroes, 800 strong, were thoroughly organized and successfully attacked Kingston. Other volunteers were pressed forward, capturing several prisoners, who were sent to Kingston.

A despatch from Hon. W. H. George was read on the Commercial Exchange, stating that he had been wounded, and Hon. Baron Von Keltelhoup, one of the officials in St. Thomas, Dr. Gerheard, Charles Anthony Price, Stephen Locke and Rev. Mr. Herschel were killed.

A later dispatch confirmed the above.

In Point Morante the insurgents killed an official named Henry A. Aldergas, and cut his head off. The Inspector of the Police force, and John Torroy, were also shot by the rebels. The Secretary of the Justice of the Peace is reported murdered.

A council of war was held in Kingston on the 19th, and subsequently martial law was declared for the District of Surry, in the name of the Queen.

Maj. Gen. O'Connor has taken command of the troops concentrating on the Island, and active measures are being taken for a vigorous campaign against the rebels. Paul Bogle, the leader of the rebels has not yet been arrested. A reward has been offered for his capture.

The latest despatch read by the Governor from the seat of war says: "The rebellion is increasing. Troops are wanted. No time is to be lost."

Among the clergymen killed is Rev. Mr. Tooto.

Great Union Victory in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Returns from a number of towns and cities in the State show a falling off in the Democratic vote as compared with last fall. Hon. C. C. Barlow, Union, is certainly elected Secretary of State by a large majority. The whole State ticket is elected. Eleven wards in this city have been heard from, giving 11,000 majority for Slocum, Democrat. The remaining wards will probably run it up to 20,000. The Unionists gain a number of State Senators and Assemblymen. Ben Wood is elected State Senator from this city. The election in the city was pretty generally quiet.

BUFFALO, Nov. 7.—This city, for the first time in several years, has gone Union. Wells is elected Mayor over Fargo by about 100 majority. The county is also Union by about 700 majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7, 11:30 P. M.—Nearly complete returns from this city give Slocum, Democrat, over 20,000 majority, being a Democratic loss of 15,000 compared with the vote of last year. His majority in this city will be about 25,000. Returns from the interior generally show Union gains. There is no doubt of the election of Barlow, Union, as Secretary of State.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7, 12 P. M.—The total number of names registered in this city up to last night, was 97,639.

Massachusetts Election.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—The State election was held to-day. The vote is small—about two thirds of that of last year. The returns indicate a larger proportional loss to the Democrats.

The vote of Boston was 8,980 for A. H. Bullock, Union, and 3,542 for Couch, Democrat. Returns from 112 towns give Bullock 14,470 and Couch, 10,400. The vote of the State will not probably exceed 100,000 of which Bullock will receive from 75,000 to 80,000 and Couch less than 25,000. Gen. Banks is elected to Congress in the Sixth District to fill a vacancy. His vote is about the same as that for Governor in Waltham. The Democrats elected one Senator in Suffolk county, the only one in the State.

Union Victory in New Jersey.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Returns from New Jersey almost invariably exhibit Union gains over the vote of last year. There is not much doubt of the election of Marcus L. Ward, Union, for Governor, over Runyon (Democrat) by a majority of 3,000 to 5,000. The returns also show a large Union gain of Assemblymen.

Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—The vote in Baltimore is very light. There was very little opposition. Less than 10,000 votes were cast. Thomas is elected in the Second District to Congress to fill a vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Ed. Webster.

Minnesota Gone for the Union.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Returns from Minnesota indicate the election of Marshall, Union candidate for Governor, by a large majority.

MURDER AT WALLA WALLA.—The Umatilla Advertiser learns that a shocking murder took place at Walla Walla on the 31st ult. A man known as "Tex" was in town, and being suspected of having been concerned in the late stage robbery near Straw Ranch, was closely watched. At the time of the robbery referred to, the mask of one of the robbers fell from his face, and the stage driver was able to recognize this "Tex" as the man. It is supposed that his accomplices in the robbery finding that he was watched at Walla Walla, killed him to prevent themselves from being detected. The killing took place a short distance from town. The murdered man received two loads from a shot gun and five bullets from a revolver. The parties who committed the murder are not certainly known, and none of them have been apprehended.

[illegible] MACHINE.—We have lately added to the [illegible] establishment [illegible] purpose [illegible] of getting up [illegible] editions of the DAILY and WEEKLY [illegible] the mails, a patent [illegible] good square show [illegible] paper applied to the [illegible] that when the last sheet [illegible] ready for the mailing [illegible] of the mailing [illegible] addressing each paper [illegible] in the margin or wing [illegible] of many hours [illegible] the working of our [illegible] of a native Yankee. This [illegible] only one on the Pacific [illegible] pleased to have our friends call at any time [illegible] notice, to witness the process [illegible] latest sight, however [illegible] the [illegible] may be seen at any time [illegible] who have any [illegible] is capable of inventing [illegible] as if it possessed [illegible] principle.

[illegible]—Our readers will [illegible] that the Colfax party were [illegible] San Francisco, with a celebrated [illegible] Mr. Bowles, who [illegible] will be recollected by our citizens [illegible] a place in her earthly tabernacle [illegible] account of the [illegible] the most unquestionably [illegible] standard, the [illegible] alve, and everything [illegible] It was a curious and interesting [illegible] one of the rarest of the [illegible] on this coast. But as to say [illegible] Governor [illegible] when you are among the [illegible] led him to take the [illegible] but my own [illegible] commentary to be made upon the meal. The urbane [illegible] and touched my shoulder. There [illegible] at the door who wishes to see you, and [illegible] bring your hat and coat." There were [illegible] city Ordinances and [illegible] next morning. I thought [illegible] what [illegible] this man has of arresting [illegible] my excuses [illegible] to the unknown tribunal. A friend [illegible] who had sat opposite to me during the [illegible] called out a few moments before [illegible] the street door with, "B[illegible], I know you [illegible] and were hungry—let us go and get [illegible] good square meal!" [illegible] meat, the lost appetite came back [illegible] squabs, fried potatoes and a bottle [illegible] My friend insisted that [illegible] of Chinese dinner was only the first. However that may be—this is how I went [illegible] and went out when it was [illegible] "get something to eat."

[illegible]—If anything can be more abominable [illegible] which the contractors are heaping up [illegible] Washington street, to make a foundation [illegible] on that "improvement," we should [illegible] There is only one thing [illegible] the abomination—and that is the [illegible] on the part of the contractors [illegible] the dirty work, besmearing the [illegible] the excrescence in close prox[illegible] of community immediately [illegible] was attempted on Front [illegible] & Fain's premises last sum[illegible] dumps the contractors were [illegible] and in the present instance [illegible] to be excused. Montana Items

The following items are from the Montana Post of Oct. 21st:

Young Governor Meagher and party arrived here on Sunday morning on their way to Fort Benton. On Monday evening the citizens assembled in front of the [illegible] and, in Main Street. [illegible] by a [illegible] of [illegible] a better accompaniment [illegible] brass band. The Governor appeared and in a short speech, assured them that he had sought this Territory as his future home, and that he would endeavor to discharge the duties of his office, not as a partisan, but for the best interests of the whole Territory. After [illegible] being the [illegible] he [illegible] and [illegible] that he [illegible] every pledge he had given.

There is much work has [illegible] the fact that [illegible] can be transported to this Territory from [illegible] with a large profit to the [illegible] During the past week, two large trains, one of three hundred animals and the other of one hundred and fifty, besides some smaller ones have unloaded Helena. It is estimated by those who are posted on the subject that no less than fifteen hundred mule [illegible] have arrived from Oregon this season, with from three hundred to three hundred and fifty pounds of freight each. An Express has been started to [illegible] the West Siders with late news from the Pacific coast. A [illegible] to place a steamer on the Pend Oreille lake, which can be reached at either end with a good wagon road.

A man whose name was supposed to be John Newman and with a father and [illegible], in Wallace, Nov. 24. [illegible] while [illegible] at a sluice. By some means he [illegible] falling and fell at full length [illegible] striking upon a stake in the ground and rupturing a blood vessel. Dr. Knapp was immediately sent for, but life was extinct before medical assistance arrived. The deceased, from letters found in his possession, is supposed to have come from Rose river, and was about twenty five or twenty six years of age, six feet two inches in height, spare made and had light brown hair and blue eyes. We noticed tears glistening in many a manly eye as the stranger was lowered into his lonely mountain grave.

We had the pleasure of a call from Albert D. Richardson of the New York Tribune, and [illegible] Wood. Mr. Richardson [illegible] observation through the Territory, and the results of his inquiries will appear in the paper with which he is connected. [illegible] Wood has two [illegible] Bullock's Crushers on the way hither, one to be located at Pannack. [illegible] the [illegible] first class mills, belonging to the Bullion Montana Coal and Silver Mining Company, will also be here this fall. The process insures the collection of all the gold or silver even in the sulphurized ores, and each mill works five tons per diem.

We were shown by Colonel McLean a number of bars of metal, nearly pure silver, taken by the common smelting process from the Latin, Aurora, Edgerton, Butterfield and Champion lodes. The ingots have the ring of the true metal, and weigh twenty one and a half pounds. This is the real "cheese," and suggestive of something better to come. Rattlesnake is a splendid ground for silver lodes. The proper furnace is now nearly completed and our next announcement will be of incoming silver bricks.

There are rumors of recent discoveries about one hundred miles east of here, near the Yellowstone. Parties have been leaving for that district during the past week. Although the rumor can be traced to no reliable source, it is generally known that good prospects have been obtained in that locality, and more recently, that the men who have been there have been seen returning with supplies of provisions and mining tools.

Vegetables of fine quality and in great variety are daily offered for sale in this city. They come from the numerous gardens and ranches which have been taken up in all directions. The cooks smile benignly, while guests and boarders generally are in a state of antiscorbutic felicity.

Gold has been discovered recently in a bar on the Missouri river, near the mouth of the Prickly Pear, and about fifteen miles from this place. It is said by practical miners who have visited the locality, that it will be profitable ground sluice diggings. Water can be brought to the bar without much expense. The gold is fine and of good quality.

Some most magnificent specimens of apples are to be seen in our markets. They are brought from Salt Lake City, and look amazingly tempting.

A friend just in from McClellan Gulch reports $2,000 for one day's run on his claim in that gulch—good enough for one day!

Diggings, we understand, have been found upon a Missouri bar, at the mouth of Prickly Pear creek, and they are reported to be both rich and extensive. Time will show.

We have in our office a number of splendid specimens of turnips, grown by Messrs. Morris and Day, of Mill Creek. The largest of the lot weighs fifteen pounds, and the remainder are of nearly equal dimensions. The sample we refer to is by no means an unfair one. On the ground similar ones can be counted by the scores. We are at a loss which to admire most, the size and excellence of the turnips, the fertility of the soil on which they grow, or the skill of the husbandmen. From eighty acres of ground under cultivation, these gentlemen have harvested fifteen hundred bushels of wheat, barley and oats, one thousand bushels of potatoes, and fifteen hundred bushels of turnips.

We are informed that a new dry gulch has been struck at Silver Bow. It pays well, but the dirt has to be hauled for a considerable distance. Among the mountains of the Missouri country, gulches of more or less promise are struck almost every day, and a great future is before the miners. The deep diggings will be explored next season and in the following years.

The general market during the past week, exhibits no material change, either in prices or the amount of business done. There have been but few arrivals of goods, confined principally to Boise and the products of Salt Lake Valley.

Large lots of choice teas are daily arriving from Boise and Walla Walla, put up expressly for the California market. Prices remain firm at last week's quotations. Demand limited.

The market is becoming nearly bare of all kinds of liquors, and unless we have arrivals of this staple soon, we look for a considerable advance in prices.

Our flour market is quiet, but little arriving—which has caused an advance of fifty cents per sack.

It is then many persons doubt the truth so often asserted that one dose of Hall's Pulmonary Balsam will cure a cold. One tablespoonful taken at bed time, will surely cure any cold in the head, chest or throat. It is sold by all druggists at fifty cents a bottle.

A Voice from the South

LETTER OF KENNETH RAYNOR, OF NORTH CAROLINA

A copy of Kenneth Rayner's important letter [illegible] which reference has been made in dispatches from Washington has been received. Rayner is generally known as a prominent citizen of North Carolina and his reputation for eloquence and ability is well known to our readers. He writes at much length to his friend Dr. Wm. Elder in [illegible] for the last four years. [illegible] Buchanan [illegible] the [illegible] complete [illegible] extensively [illegible] this Union [illegible]

After the election of Lincoln in 1860 I stood [illegible] the Union. My opinion was freely expressed, publicly and privately, that there was no cause for disunion; that we should wait until he had developed his policy; that it would be time enough to resist when our rights as a people were assailed in some tangible shape. The failure of the Peace Congress which met in Washington in March 1861 [illegible] collision between the two sections made me sick at heart; and when I heard that Fort Sumter had been taken I felt that a cloud of darkness had covered the land. And yet on the 20th of May 1861 I voted in the North Carolina Convention [illegible] ordinance by which the State [illegible] the Constitution of the United States. [illegible] It seems to me that I can see you when you come to this part of my letter contracting your brow and shaking your head and asking yourself the question, "How is this?" "How can my friend Rayner explain this?" "how can he reconcile this vote with his long and consistent devotion to the cause of the Union?" Well, I don't know that I can; and I don't know that I ought to wish to do it; for although I could not of myself have effected anything for my country, yet so far as my own peace of mind and happiness are concerned, it would have been better for me had I stood up alone as the only member of the body and opposed the ordinance of [illegible] and been martyred for it if need be.

He then sets forth the combination of almost resistless influences by which he with other Union men of the times were overborne, and proceeds to give his views of the war, its results, the true policy of the Government and duty of the people, etc., in the following exceedingly interesting remarks:

In calmly reflecting on this war, its inauguration, its progress, and its conclusion, and on the mighty events that have chased each other for the last four years, it is the most strange, wonderful and unaccountable episode in all history. The South was hurried into the conflict, not because a majority of her people wanted disunion—by no means—but because a combination of unfortunate and untoward circumstances had paralyzed the Union men of the South, as it were, and then rendered them impotent in their efforts to preserve peace.

As I have already said, the Convention of this State (and so far as the Union element is concerned, I believe I may speak for the other States) in voting for secession did not regard it as a foregone conclusion that disunion must follow. The friends of the Union hoped that the imminence of the conflict would force a settlement of the difficulty; and even after blood began to flow they earnestly and anxiously looked forward, day after day and month after month, for something to turn up that would result in the making of peace and the restoration of harmony.

But here was their difficulty. After having placed the State in the position where she was—or rather in having adapted her to the position in which Buchanan had placed her—they felt bound as a matter of personal honor to sustain her in that position until a reconciliation should take place. That was, no doubt, the moving consideration with the members of the Confederate Congress who still had hopes of a peaceful settlement on the basis of reconstruction. But they ultimately found out that by sustaining the Confederate Government, for the time being, under an impulse of personal honor, and for the additional reason that the more respectable the position of that Government the better terms they might expect to obtain in the adjustment of the difficulty—that they had made the Government too strong for themselves, and thereby disarmed themselves of all power to restrain and control it. Thus it was, the Union men found themselves powerless. Having blundered into the difficulty every effort to get out seemed to involve a series of additional blunders. Finally, conscription, habeas corpus repeal, repudiation, tithe, impressment and heavy taxation consummated the reign of terror, which crushed and prostrated and sealed the mouths of the friends of the Union throughout the South.

But the most remarkable thing connected with this war is the blind and reckless persistence in it, long after every hope of success had departed and when it was apparent that the subjugation of the South was inevitable, if the war continued. I do not believe that after the battle of Gettysburg one tenth of the people of the South had any faith in the success of Southern arms. And I am equally confident that since that battle there has not been a day that a very large majority of the people of the entire South would not have voted for peace on the basis of reconstruction, provided every man could have voted his own private sentiments free from the terror of a factitious public opinion. For myself, I did not believe war would necessarily follow when the North Carolina Convention voted for secession. I thought that possibly a few slight conflicts might take place, but I thought the horror of blood flowing in civil strife would so shock the public sense in both sections that reconciliation must soon follow. In this I was mistaken. Bloody battles continued to follow each other and to intensify the strife. As soon as I waked up to a realization of the horrible condition of my country, when I saw blood flowing in torrents, when I saw ruin and devastation pervading the land, when I saw and heard the tears and wailings of widows and orphans, when I witnessed the best and the bravest and the noblest of our young men immolated by thousands; when I discovered want, almost approaching famine, stalking over our country, when I saw our productive fields growing up in briers, our credit and currency depreciating day by day, our schools and colleges shut up, when I saw tithing men, and impressing agents and tax gatherers swarming in every direction, and reeking corruption, with defiant front, plundering an imbecile government and a panic stricken people in every department of administrative authority—when I saw all this, my heart sunk in despair. All hope and joy departed from my bosom, and from that time to this I have known nothing but unhappiness, gloom and sorrow, on account of my country.

I speak plainly. You want the truth, and the truth you shall have. I regard it as more than idle now to attempt to justify and excuse the Union men of the South for that which they ought to have done and did not do. They ought to have thrown themselves into the breach in the first instance, and have risked civil war at home rather than have allowed an issue of arms between the two sections to have taken place. Failing to do that, they should have arrested the war by counter revolutions as soon as they discovered that Southern independence as a condition precedent in a negotiation for peace was impracticable and impossible. Their errors were errors of omission rather than of commission. Still, their errors were most grievous, and most grievously have they atoned for them.

But, while I do not pretend to justify the course of the South, or even the Union men of the South, there are many considerations connected with the history of this terrible struggle which appeal strongly to the generosity and magnanimity of the Northern people, now that the South is prostrate and an appellant for mercy and forbearance. It should not be forgotten that [illegible] the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, yet it was suggested and sustained by Douglas, a Northern man. Criminal as was the attempt to force the Lecompton Constitution on the people of Kansas, yet it was favored and urged [illegible] by Buchanan, a Northern man. Wrongful and improper as was the Dred Scott decision, it was sanctioned and approved by two Northern Judges of eminence; and culpable as was the Buchanan Administration in allowing the Union apparently to tumble down and go to ruin, [illegible] warning [illegible] and that the members of his Cabinet from the North remained in that cabinet to the last hour and made no effort to check the tide of disunion. These were the great political crimes (the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, the effort to force the Lecompton constitution and the winking at the secession of States all followed by the taking of Sumter) [illegible] crimes of commission and the third a crime of omission, that seduced the South into a conflict with the General Government. [illegible] Northern men built up the Republican party, and culminated in the election of Lincoln. The last brought about, practically, an issue of physical force. Should not these considerations plead strongly in extenuation of the punishment now to be meted out? It may be said that the South should not have allowed herself to be thus seduced by selfish and designing Northern men, that our first parents did not the less forfeit Paradise because they were beguiled by the serpent. Very true. But [illegible] the punishment [illegible] the serpent [illegible] Almighty [illegible] wrath was poured on the serpent also. [illegible] North [illegible]

[illegible] the North [illegible] their wrath [illegible] mighty power [illegible]

[illegible] The slaves having been emancipated [illegible] lands are comparatively valueless [illegible] banks [illegible] Nearly all the [illegible] been [illegible] the South have [illegible] and the [illegible] of children [illegible]

Merchandise [illegible] in existence. Nearly all the goods [illegible] have been taken out of the country [illegible] Our [illegible] merchants have not the money to purchase with, and if they had the goods the people cannot buy them. [illegible]

Capital is what the South now needs [illegible] to develop its manufacturing, mining and agricultural resources [illegible] set everybody to work. The difficulty is there is no demand for labor. Our young men are ready to go to work, anxious to get employment, but really there is nothing for them to do. It is all owing to the fact that there is no money here, and very little prospect of its coming hereafter. There may be some seven or eight hundred thousand bales of cotton scattered throughout the South. This is the remnant of the crop of 1860 not disposed of when the war broke out and the small amounts raised in the last four years. [illegible] at this time there is a little activity [illegible] in getting this cotton to the sea coast. Speculators are tramping the South in every direction [illegible] the last bale. [illegible] There are a few thousand hogsheads scattered over the Southern States [illegible] stored for years. Almost every family that has any is selling a portion of this last remnant [illegible] in order to obtain their domestic supplies of which they had become very [illegible] during the four years of war. This is throwing a little money into circulation [illegible]

Perhaps you will say where are the emancipated negroes? why may not their labor be made available by paying them for it? [illegible] a blessing. [illegible] the white race [illegible] a speech [illegible] Congress [illegible] regarded it as a blessing [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Suppose he is a lawyer, in the first place there is no law, as there never is when there is no business, [illegible] clients cannot pay him money [illegible] the case with the physician [illegible] and they send for their doctor, but they cannot pay him money for his services. Suppose [illegible] merchant [illegible] Northern [illegible] with Suppose [illegible] Suppose [illegible] farmer [illegible] And yet every [illegible] the farmer [illegible] His slaves have left him [illegible] than half [illegible] raising [illegible] sugar [illegible] brought money into the country [illegible] Consequently he cannot promise [illegible] pay money [illegible] Banks [illegible]

[illegible] North [illegible] This is the truth, and I have no [illegible] the future. What more [illegible] the people of the North desire? [illegible] the people of the South. [illegible] the South [illegible] Ought not [illegible] magnanimity [illegible] Ought [illegible] the golden eggs have heretofore been laid? [illegible]

I assure you that so far as my feelings of [illegible] resistance to the Government is concerned I do not believe there is the most [illegible] such thing. [illegible] as it were from a state of [illegible] under which they have labored for four years past. [illegible] They [illegible] for peace [illegible] They feel that they have paid and are still paying the penalty of an unsuccessful resistance to the Government. All they now want is that they may not be compelled to wear the badge of slavery. [illegible] Federal and State [illegible] Union [illegible] the North [illegible] the future of the South. It depends [illegible] whether the South as an integral part of the Union shall enter into its new and natural career of both advancement and progress [illegible] the glory [illegible] the land of the [illegible] independent [illegible] of her pride, her ambition and her character, and all of these [illegible]

I am not [illegible] I will not believe that the people of the North, now in the day of victory and triumph, can merely from a feeling of cruelty wish to punish and degrade the Southern people any further, more especially when no practical benefit can possibly accrue to them from the indulgence of such feeling, [illegible] punish [illegible] the guilty alike. Have they no [illegible] those who have fought the battles of the Union for [illegible] years and who wept tears of sorrow at the thought of its dissolution? Have they no sympathy for widows and orphans who first lost husbands and fathers in battle and who have since lost all means of support? I would appeal to those who are most unforgiving and who are most clamorous for punishment and ask them to reflect for a moment. Are they not satisfied with the condition of poverty to which we have been reduced? Suppose they imposed a fine on the Southern people of $4,000,000,000—the emancipation of the slaves is tantamount to the same thing, for the slaves were property by our laws, just as much so as are lands and ships and stock property in the North.

Our lands in the South have been laid waste, our live stock and agricultural implements and other [illegible] In many large sections the stock of provisions has been so much destroyed and taken away as to leave the people on the verge of famine. ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
